

1. a) Why do we look similar to our parents?
b) Why are we not identical to our parents?
2. Place each of these characteristics into the Venn diagram to show whether the variation in the characteristic is caused by genes, the environment or a combination of both:

Height, Scars, Blood group, Muscle Size, Eye Colour, Body mass

3. Define the following terms:

Species:

Variation:

4. Describe three of your own characteristics.
5. Where do these characteristics come from?
6. State one example of a characteristic in people that shows a range of variation and one example of a characteristic that is either present or not.